About the course: LaTeX is a typesetting system suitable for producing scientific and mathematical documents. Latex gives user extremely good control over the formatting of documents. Once it is mastered, it can be much easier to work with than a mainstream word processor when complicated formatting is necessary.